THANKS

I would like to thank my wife and best friend Primrose for inspiring this book, my young brother Clyde for pushing me to dig deeper. Hillary Mrehwa my friend for the lesson. My parents for teaching me the true worth of love, Method Mutasa for sharing his story, Mr O Chisora for those words you said to me, you probably do not remember and everyone who shared their stories with me, Thank You!

OBJECTIVE

The purpose of this book is to teach you how and why you need to put trust in charge of matters of the heart. This will justify your faithfulness and you will get the same from your partner. You can never be fully in love with your partner unless you TRUST each other. Being in love with someone means you trust them enough to the point of opening up and mixing all that you are with all that they are, without holding back anything. This word LOVE, which is one of the most used words that strangers may agree or disagree at times, is inside each and every one black or white, red or blue, you cannot stop it, contain or kill it, it may kill you, worst of all it will control you if you do not wise up. According to (NIV Deuteronomy 6 vs. 4-5) "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength". This is the most important commandment. So loving someone means you have to give all that you are, so keep God`s commandments and the commandments you will be given by your partner and maintaining a humble attitude and respect.

INTRODUCTION

Ever since I was a child, love was inside me I would feel it whenever I saw something cool that I did not have and those feelings would not stop until that cool thing was in my hands. The funny thing about those feelings was that they would go away as soon as the item was in my hands and would start to crave for something that I did not have. This was okay because I was a child, but as you grow older you stop feeling love for items and you start to love people and everything changes because you just cannot love someone today and tomorrow the feelings are gone. There is a street name for that “Player” but this is not something to take pride over because it is actually a clinical problem called BIPOLAR MINIA DISORDER we will talk more about this disorder and there is a great chance of treatment if treated in time, this mental problem is caused by lack of care among many other causes most of these people are suicidal and cold blooded killers with no remorse and these people are not capable of loving because “ Love is Patient, Love is kind, Love is not envious or boastful or arrogant or rude”. It does not insist on its own way, it is not irritable or resentful, it does not rejoice in wrong doing, but rejoices in the truth LOVE NEVER ENDS

CARE

When we are talking about matters of the heart, care goes a little further because you will care less about yourself. When you meet someone that fits your imagination, you will feel the need to take care of his/her every need. This makes care the feeling you first feel when you meet your dream and your hear it talking to you.

If you send a child to school without telling the child the benefits of going to school he/she is going to enjoy in the future, the child will go because he/she has no power to say no. This is the same with Love. If you propose love to someone and between those lines you forget to tell that person, what they are going to benefit from this merger. It is like proposing a business to a businessman and you do not tell him what he is going to get from the investment and what he is not going to get which in this case a loss. Telling your dream that they are going to get A,B,C and D and believe she has never heard what you are proposing, you will see her astonished by your confidence, in the middle of that astonishment you stop and ask her about herself. This will be the first sign that you do not only want to know her body but everything about her and the other thing about care, this you do not have to pretend, but it must be done until it is a part of you.

If you want your relationship to be marry and filled with respect this is what you must do;

-For the wife you must try to have a great relationship with your Mother in law.

-For the husband you must also try to have a great relationship with your Father in law.

ATTENTION

When you are with your partner, you can lose their attention if you do not pay attention to those little things he/she may do to give you a signal. You need to master the time out signal, when you spot the signal stop right away before you are disqualified. It is simple; if you master it you will become the best company to your partner. This is what you do as you are talking about whatever; let's say you are telling her a story that happened long back, before the two of you met. If you see your partner breaking eye contact for more than 5 seconds and it happens again within 30 seconds that is the time out signal stop and ask if your story has ever happened to your partner or someone close. If still interested you will be asked to finish your story, but if you spotted right he/she will tell you their story. Do not look at other ladies or man passing by, unless you are both going to talk about it because your partner has their eye on you. If there is a void comment her skin, do not say things like marry me or i want to buy you a car. Do not talk too much about yourself or how fast your car is throughout the date but ask what your partner wants to know about you, take your time to answer but not too long, she may think you are fabricating your stories. Ask her about herself never get too personal on your first date, like when are your next periods. If she is a slow talker give her time do not finish her lines. Ladies like guys who are not rushy because they are not rushy in bed for they take their time to handle business.

PAY ATTENTION FOR THE TIMEOUT SIGNAL

CONTROL

All the men in this world believe they are kings in their little kingdoms and we all know kings do not discuss but decree their wishes. Men are lost in their own kingdoms most of the times. Kings would consult their partners back in the day. They never mistreated their partners in front of anyone because they had respect, which is why they attracted respect.

If you love your partner you will consider her needs before dragging her like a down syndrome, that you are pretty sure is not able to think for herself, ladies are also human beings with equal feelings and are also capable of seeing the logic in every situation, most the time better than men. The problem is with the kings who want to be on top of whatever to feel like a real man. This is how you do it if you have a control problem you present your suggestion to your partner and whatever her choice you support it. This way she will know that she is not being treated like a down but a queen and by going along with her choice she will feel the respect you have for her. Am not talking about the rats who do not want your respect but for you to take advantage of them and not even remember their names, am talking about a real lady who will give you the reason because she respects herself.

About RESPECT, you are to never look at another man or woman when you are with your partner, you are the only people in the world and this shows the person you are looking at that your relationship is not sold, and he/she has more power over you than your partner further more you actually would have preferred him/her in another time or if given the chance. This also shows a high level of lack of respect for you partner. This behaviour will cause mood swings or even kill the relationship. Remember present your suggestion and support her choice with everything you have, do not change it unless absolutely necessary, preferably due to circumstances you cannot control. If this happens call and notify your partner of the change immediately, do not wait till she is worried or angry. This helps to keep the trust she has for you and builds fidelity and faith. “If you respect your partner in front of your friends or relatives, they will also respect your partner and this will give him/her confidence”

RESPECT YOUR PARTNER

COMMUNICATION

So much frustration in marriages is caused by someone feeling that they are not being listened to and by feeling as if they are not understood. If we could just learn how to truly comprehend to the meaning behind each other's words, much of the anger would be removed from our relationship. Since this communication skill is not taught in a learning institution, we have to go through trial and error; this is dangerous because we picked up destructive communication skills through life and it takes a crisis for us to realize before we look for alternative ways. These alternative ways are not easy to find but when you find them they will make your partner feel they are no longer being criticized whenever you talk to them and they will not go into defensive mode when talking them.

BASIC FOUNDATION

- Good listening skills
- Basic language (verbal and non verbal)
- Give the time and attention to talk with your spouse.
- Increase your spouse's self-esteem and confidence by letting them handle other things without you checking on them.
- Gaining your spouse's cooperation by respecting them.
- Reduce stress and tension in your marriage by not rushing or forcing your partner.
- Do not talk to your spouse when agry

LEARNING

You have to study if you want to excel in anything. However, when it comes to matters of the heart, you have to be patient in learning and teaching your partner. This process works both ways, do not think because you are male you know everything, there are some things that you do not have a clue about, but your partner may be a master in that area. That is why you need to learn as much as you can about your partner.

When teaching your partner you need to be very careful because you may add petrol to a burning bush. Make sure that they are comfortable and ready to learn, do not insult your partner because they do not know something, and instead explain to your partner if you know, in a respectful way.

If you have decided she is the one you want to spend the rest of your life with, teach her the ways of man, so that she will be able to sense when another man is hitting on her before it even starts. We all know the most important thing when hitting on a lady is the RESPONSE, there is no good or bad response there is a response only. Our female friends do not know this until you tell.

Here is a story about a fish that lived in a big dam named Marsa, she was the last fish in that dam and all the fisherman knew it, so every day they would prepare to catch Marsa. Some knew and some did not that she was never hungry because she was well fed by the keeper of the dam Synok. Most of these fisherman were patient but some after a few days would pack and go while those who remained would use bait, but Marsa was well trained by Synok that she would not take the bait look or open her mouth to test because Synok had told her that if she ever was to open her mouth for whatever reason she was going to be hooked and pulled out of the water. Marsa never opened her mouth for the fisherman who wanted to take her from her dam. What am saying is; if you do not teach your partner this story, the moment she will open her mouth to another man for whatever reason (we all know what am talking about) there will be a 80% chance that she is going to be hooked if the man wants to, After that a 60% chance that she will be thrown back into the dam after the fisherman has evaluated why another man is keeping her; 30% chance she will be taken to another dam and 10% chance she will be thrown into a river where she will be evaluated by anyone who likes. "Ladies do not fool yourselves, you were designed in a way that you can be softened by man the moment you start to respond" .Man will say things to you things that will get into mind and mess you up, that even when he is gone you will still feel him inside as if you have been hypnotised

IT IS THE SAME AS HYPNOSIS

You need to tell your partner to act as if you are watching all the time because someone you know maybe watching. The other thing is that “no one on this earth ever does anything without expecting something in return”. Ladies need to know that whenever they hear a man offering his help in any way, it is most probably because he hopes to get something from you, if he is a good persuader , erotic thanks will come his way. And if a man offers information you did not ask for, he actually is hoping to start a conversation and get some information about you. Remember there is no such thing as good or bad response, IGNORING is the only answer. It is much easier for man because we can decide to never again approach another lady, you ladies cannot because even if you do not want to be hit on or on your way to the toilet, it is not your decision you just have to know when it is about to happen so you can avoid or stop it before you are hooked.

So things like not answering calls or entertain your ex no matter what, because “who knows what they would have found out there and are hoping to give to you as PAY BACK” Trust me, ladies are stronger than you think, if you treat her good, show her love and respect you will have no problems. She will ignore the fisherman. Other signs that people in a relationship usually overlook because we say love is forgiving. These signs are like a trip into the future with your partner, so we need to take them as they are and look at them closely for that's the future. Here is one common trip when you catch your partner with someone and they tell you they will never do it again and you have had all your life that love is forgiving, you will forgive your partner but your partner will not stop he/she will only get smarter so that you will not catch him/her next time.

It is not likely that someone will start cheating on their partner after they are married but they were cheating when you were boyfriend and girlfriend and they will never stop unless help is imported, from trained people and God. Or they just change their pattern when caught. Love is forgiving, right but you do not have to be a fool by going back to the thing that causes you pain. It is not wrong to forgive but sucking it in is wrong, you need to do away with things and people that cause pain to your body and heart "before you are sucked in too deep "wakugarira vana"

You are the most important person in this world so you cannot be treated any less by anyone, move on before it's too late and you are still young because someone wants to respect you and give all that he/she is, better people are out there looking for you. God will give you a chance to see the true character of your partner before you are married.

FIDELITY

Whether you are married or a partner in a committed relationship, being faithful is not always easy but if you commit to being a faithful spouse or partner, you can do it. TRUST is the thing that will keep you together, do not do anything to break it. You need to believe in one another and trust your partner, suspicion and doubt does not cause a spouse to cheat, but if you show any of these signs to your partner, they could start trouble for the relationship. Set boundaries and stay within them, these will grow to trust and the longer you both stay within the boundaries you have agreed on, the more trust you will build as time goes on. If you set a tone of faith, trust and belief in one another and give each other a real sense that your relationship is SOLID and UNSHAKABLE, it will be a great comfort to you. If you prove yourself worthy of his/her trust today, in TEN YEARS if someone accuses you of something he/she will dismiss it knowing that you would never betray him/her because of your history together.

You need to be faithful because you have made a choice to be a team and always know everyone is on the other team and they want to see you fail. They are other facts like you are no longer on your own and you cannot come and go as you wish or have relationship that your partner does not know of. You have a responsibility to your partner and the sooner you accept it, the fewer fights and arguments you will have and a happy life you will have. If you act free and accountable to no one this ensures that you will be single again and soon. Instead keep in mind your love for your partner and the love your partner has for you.

If pigeons can be faithful to one partner all there life, and not tolerate any kind of disturbance to their relationship, but deal with it directly and harshly “if birds can do it, so can you” If you own a business let your family members be a part of that business, the day to day running especially the financial side of the business so that you will not have the so called extra money “by the way not even the richest man in the world has extra money” Too much freedom is not good for you “Money freedom is the root to infidelity”. Never think about your past relationship because if it ended there was a good reason they did, “so do not waste time in the past but protect your present to have a great future” and “do not cheat on the future by spending time in the past”

TRUST IS THE KEY

SITUATION

A friend of mine got ill with these colds that are attacking almost everyone these days. He then went to drop something at his father in laws house together with his wife, when he got there his sister in law had been attacked by same flue. The next day his wife said she to go back they was something she to fix, when she got back all she could talk about was how her sister's flue had worsened. The next day she finished her work while her husband was still in bad, not just relaxing but because of the flue. She dressed up and said sweetie am going to my father's house my dear sister is not feeling well. All my buddie could say was amh back around, she came 5pm. This happened for two good weeks. My friend said the most painful part was not being left alone but the words that my flue was not as painful as her sister's because she could not eat or walk around. He said he had to walk around because they stayed at his parent house so for the rest of his family to see he lay around and not eat while his wife left him would be so embarrassing.

-Situations in a relationship must be treated with respect for they are not to be taken lightly because there are not.

-In this situation the wife chose her sister over her husband which was wrong considering all things normal, your spouse comes first. She was suppose to take care of her husband then off to her sister and not stay forever or a smart lady would have talked about how ill her sister is until the husband would have suggested that she should go and help her.

All these moves were made without considering the feelings of the other partner and not caring how it would look to his family, she just didn't care.

Not caring about what your actions make your partner feel in front of other people is on the top of list no things that turn off the spark and caring is the number one on things that keeps the fire burning.

-The four A's-

-Always think of the reaction of the things you want to do because you may say you don't care what people think .but you share your life with someone. So what we humane do when we notice you don't have a face, we start to ask were you belong, who's child is this, who's wife, who's husband and so on. People will not even talk about you but were and who you belong to, so for every action there is reaction

-Always put your spouse first, because even the ones you think will always be there for you will leave you for their partners. Look in your family some people do not talk to each other and they only meet at funerals but these people were once very close and shared everything.

-Always do everything to please your partner not other people or relatives because it does not matter if you are praised by anyone for something good you have done as long as your partner acknowledges your efforts for he is the only factor that matters.

-Always remember you chose him/she and you need to remind your partner each time the situation presents. Your family is important so be careful not to choose your partner because if you don't then you do not consider them as family or they are not as important. There are no small things in matters of the heart. Choose your partner then choose other people together.

If you know that your partner's feelings are hurt by your actions or speech but you do it anyway to please or to get approval by other people or even your family, this means you haven't given all your heart to your partner and he/she can feel it and you will start to feel a gap growing, closing it will be hard but can be done. After a few weeks of reading this chapter, you still hurt your partner's feelings, then you are staying with him/her for other reasons not Love.

A RELATIONSHIP IS STRENGTHENED
OR DESTROYED BY THE SITUATION
YOU ENCOUNTER AS A COUPLE

STUPID THINGS ABOUT LOVE

Most of the things we are going to talk about, you have heard and believe in them, some you have done and some you are doing right now.

- ✓ You never make a pretty girl your wife. There are even songs to try and plant a seed of an idea into your head. If you are not smart enough you will follow or you have. You are not supposed to marry a pretty lady, even though your heart and everything in you tells you that you want her. The seed tells you to marry a lady you do not like and when you want to have fun, you go where pretty ladies are found. Most of your time will be spent at those places and as little as possible with the so called wife at home, which you married because of an idea, stupid one.

- ✓ For the mid 40s it is called THE MID LIFE CRISIS. This is something they take pride in, never taking time to think about their spouses, the problems it causes for their families because of LUST. The thing about sex without emotional bond is that it never satisfies anyone; no one can bond with a man who is in love with his family, so they will find satisfaction elsewhere, which is why there are multiple partners in SMALL HOUSES. Yes you may say am not looking for a bond, i have that with my wife, am just looking for fun. Since she cannot bond with you, this means you will never have a connection with that tight, hot and sexy body. She will actually hate you but these are hard times and most of these whores usually have a fatherless child and because of that child, she will sleep with you even if death is better. Since she needs the money she will do anything for you, so that you will to give her all your money and nothing for your family. Kana wakapusa, kana wakaramba urirema she will get pregnant, it will never be by you she cannot risk having a disabled baby because the quality of your sperms is now low because of your age. As a man gets older he loses his natural ability to weed out unhealthy sperm cells through a process known as APOPTOSIS. So there is a greater chance that a damaged sperm cell will successfully fertilize the female egg. Meaning the child will have a great chance of developing mild abnormalities such as uneven teeth, or Down`s syndrome, asymmetric limbs (Lead researcher Dr Narendra Singh told the BBC) “We found there is a significant change by the of 35”. So she will have that baby a man her age. A young hot blooded man.

You will kill yourself, your wife and your children will live like dogs. Wise up, if not for you, for your children.

- ✓ The little thing on the side, the cat that keeps you warm. Most houses are filled with the wrong partner because of the cat. The problem is we have fewer smart people, we just have the informed, these are people with a good memory who can recall information during a test, and most of these people grow to become doctorate holders. But no worries as long as they are informed they will be okay. Let's say you are going out with a certain person and another person comes into the picture because you did not ignore, most of the times you end up marrying that cat because you might get that person pregnant or you may get pregnant by that person. The problem is that you were just having fun but nothing can be funny forever, they usually stop. Then you spend the rest of your life thinking about it. Every wrong thing that person will do you will wonder if your real sweet heart would have done that to you.

WISE UP

INFIDELITY

I talked about this saying INFIDELITY is a clinical problem with which one diagnosed with this problem can be admitted into a clinic.

It is called BIPOLAR disorder. Traditionally bipolar disorder symptoms were framed in terms of mood swings, “bipolar was easier to understand back when it was commonly known as “MANIC-depressive illness” This is because bipolar is all about mood swings. These are mood changes that are more extreme and pronounced than the usual ups and downs we all experience.

In order for us to move on, let me give you the definitions of BIPOLAR “this depression involves feelings of sadness and emptiness or a loss of pleasure or interest in things” These feelings last most of the day, on most days for at least two weeks. These symptoms are severe enough to impact negatively on work, relationships and everydaylife.

SYMPTOMS

- Feeling sadness or emptiness
- Losing interest or pleasure in one`s usual enjoyments.
- Change in appetite or substantial and unplanned loss of weight or weight gain.
- Insomnia “sleeping disorder”
- Excessive tiredness or sleepiness and or lack of energy.
- Restless and agitation
- Reduced sex drive
- Lack of motivation
- Feeling worthless
- Feeling guilty about things you are not responsible for.
- Indecision.
- Fuzzy “Thinking problems, concentrating or memory loss.

- Thoughts of self harm or suicide
- Hallucination “seeing something or people not present”
- Delusions “A belief that is clearly false and that indicates an abnormality in the affected person.

These next symptoms of BIPOLAR MANIA are found on individuals with a much dipper level of bipolar. And these individuals think they are the best, the top cream of everything they think they are the most handsome, the most beautiful, the ones with the sweetest voices of which they usually are not but they work very hard to look good and it shows that is why the rest of the people step aside and tell them they are the best. Then they take a comfortable chair sit down and have a big laugh behind their backs. These are the symptoms of bipolar mania disorder.

SYMPTOMS

- ✓ Exaggerated high opinion of oneself
- ✓ Beliefs that one has great talents or gifts that extend beyond reality.
- ✓ Hallucination
- ✓ Reduced need for sleep
- ✓ Talking more than usual
- ✓ Pressure to keep talking
- ✓ Skipping from one idea to the next so there is a fragmented flow of thought
- ✓ Racing thoughts
- ✓ Easily distracted but some short periods of very focused attention
- ✓ Feeling restless and agitated for example finding it hard to sit still
- ✓ Increase in goal directed activities, related to social, work, school or sexual pursuits
- ✓ Excessive engagement in pleasurable activities without thought to their distressing consequences, such as big spending sprees, sexual indiscretions.

A very common symptom in Maniacal conditions is EROTIC excitement. You will find these people having an undue attention to the opposite sex, up to the point when the mind is wholly occupied by urgent sexual appetite and all restraint abandoned.

People with Bipolar disorder also face hugely increased risk of early death from diabetes, heart disease and stroke.

If you have these symptoms you must go and see your doctor for treatment and also ask for the "BIPOLAR DIET", you do not have to live you children or die from disease you may get from your multi-partners,

SIGNS OF CHEATING

A cheating partner usually dresses smart and is informed remember, these are talented people. Finding out that your partner has cheated or is cheating on you comes as a surprise. Cheating partners are caught in a simple way. So when you start to feel that your relationship or marriage is unsatisfying and suspect infidelity, the reality of a cheating spouse is however too much to bear. It is usually very painful to admit that you will choose to look to the side instead of facing the facts. People usually feel angry at their own ignorance. You cannot miss the feeling because you will start to feel that you are no longer as important as you used to be to your spouse. These are some of the first signs of a cheating spouse.

- ✓ Your spouse will not share his/her day with you; he/she cannot tell you how the day was spent because they were with someone.

- ✓ Changes in the work schedule starting earlier because he or she wants to see the new found love before going to work. Ending later because they want to see and drop off the partner before going home. Have new demands from work such as dinners, late meetings and so on.
- ✓ Your spouse has taken new interests or hobbies that are not their usual character.
- ✓ Your spouse has taken sudden interest in her/herself looks new and different type of clothing, hairstyle or weight loss, starts to use or change perfume or after shave.
- ✓ Your spouse leaves the room to receive calls on his/her cell phone and has it on vibrate. When walking by your spouse while on the computer the program window is immediately changed or closed.

- ✓ Your spouse has begun the habit of showering upon coming home.
- ✓ Your spouse is evasive when asked about his/her whereabouts or activities during the day.
- ✓ Your spouse has become uncharacteristically argumentative or critical with no apparent cause such as work, financial or health stressors.
- ✓ Your spouse starts to act as if he/she is behind time or later even if you are just going to the shops and back.
- ✓ Your spouse is being sent on business a day before a holiday and comes back after the holiday.
- ✓ Your spouse stops bringing you gifts from his or her business trips and comes back a day later than expected with a fun story.

Noticing these signs does not necessarily mean that your spouse is cheating but when there three or more it should alert you that he/she may be having an extramarital affair. You should talk to your spouse about what is lacking in the relationship or talk to your man of God or Doctor.

The biggest threats to a relationship are the people you see and talk to everyday your social club, your drinking buddies, workmates, neighbour and so on. So when they start to hit on you do not wait for them to finish but move away from them, go home if you can and black list such people never speak to him/her ever. Do not stick around for their apology, for it will be another trick to get to you. That person is working with the devil to destroy your relationship because it is too much for the devil to let it be, because other people may start to copy and you know what? In a few years the whole world is filled with happy people. That is why he must TRY to stop you. He will try but it is UP TO YOU, the devil cannot open your heart only you can do it, so “MOVE AWAY FROM THE DEVIL”

If you have a health solid relationship with the things we talked about earlier and you maintain them you will never be at risk of INFIDELITY.

A real man never neglects his family`s emotional or spiritual needs, he does not blame his work for not being around for his family.

CLOSING

The creator knows you are out there, he knows you crave for love. You were created from love and it is the only thing that can fill your hunger. God loves you he will give you a perfect gift that is capable of loving you, that will complete you in every way or he has already given you your special someone, but the devil wants you to think your God has forsaken you and given you the devil. God is 100% LOVE through and through he is only capable of giving good gifts. Believe me when i say, your partner is the only person who can truly stand your character. Thank God and go give a kiss to Him/her.

BONUS STORY

My tank was running low and i thought it was possible to reach the filling station but I was wrong and I had no container, at least I was close just about a Kilometre. I parked on the side of the road and took the walk. I was lucky the guys at the filling station had just finished their 2 litre coke so they were kind enough to let me have the container, after filling the container we realised that the bottle cap was missing but with a lot of people drinking rtd's, I was sure I would find one if I just looked on the ground. I walked for about 800m with my eyes fixed on the ground and all the caps were not suitable because they were all smashed or they would not fit nicely, with only 200m to reach my car a perfect bottle cap; as if someone was after the cap I jumped for it. Another 2m another bottle top and on the last 100m almost 20 bottle tops and two were thrown from a passing car. It was very funny that just when I had found my bottle top they started to flood. This same thing happens when in relationships because when you get married you will start to see a lot of ladies or man. Ladies will start to check you out because your wife is taking good care of you and you are now looking good. These whores will feel jealous, but you need to know this is not your battle, you are a weapon being used to hate your wife by these whores because she has someone she calls her own, so the only way to hate her is by having sex with you the only sacred thing in her life.

For the ladies your marriage will attract the ill man because they would want to know why someone wanted you for himself. They are also being driven by a sinful mind to break the seventh and Tenth commandment “You shall not commit ADULTERY” and “You shall not covet” and they want you to feel worthless by giving your glory to them.

If I would have picked the entire bottle tops I would have became a crazy person, but that is what a lot of people are doing especially man, behaving like animals. Do not put a smile on the Devil`s face. WISE UP, I know you can do it,

You have the power.
